MILO NEWS

About one-half of the people of Milo have been afflicted with a sore malady. It's name Dear Reader, we leave to you. Suffice it to say that it is acquired in various ways and rare indeed is the individual who continually escapes it. Sometimes it comes in one fell blow, such as caused by a hurrying pedestrian, an insidious banana peel and a concrete sidewalk. Sometimes it comes as a result of a pair of skates developing a sudden yearning to be an airplane. Quite often it comes as a result of the vibration between horse and rider, and sometimes it just comes. The symptoms? Eating from off a mantelpiece, using cushions and showing unusual solicitation for the welfare of the extremities, waddling upstairs like an inebriated duck and mincing with the dignity of a broad but devout seeker after salvation traversing a church aisle. The cause of all this?—The Milo toboggan slide. Boy, oh boy, you should see it and you should try it—it is really a dandy. It is 52 ft. long, 12 feet high and has a trough three feet high and three feet wide. When once you get into it there is no use changing your mind, there is only one way to go in a hurry. Is it fast? Ask Norman McCord. He was the first to try it and he went down on a wet and icy board. About half-way down the board got scared and Norman finished the trip on Norman. Little tots from three years up are wild about it and so are the adults of youthful mind. Of course there are some who would rather stand on their dignity than expose it to the mercies of a toboggan slide and what a lot of fun they miss in all walks of life. The village purchased the lumber for this enterprise and the labor was supplied by interested parents and citizens. To these the youngsters and council express their thanks.

Any law made for the masses works some hardship in individual cases. In fact there are only three things in a man's life where he can be said to be an individualist. His birth, his death and his marriage and only in death is he free of the intrusion of others. There is in this district a Doughobor. He misunderstood the questionnaire asking whether or not he was willing to accept alternative labour service. Because he was the sole remaining help of his father and mother on the farm he answered in the negative. As a result he was classed as a conscientious objector and required to pay so much per month or per year into the Red Cross funds. According to the papers this ruling is to remain in effect for some time. Here is the rest of the story. One brother served overseas and the other tried by every means to get into both the army and airforce and was rejected for medical reasons. There is definite injustice here.

The Milo Bridge Club has again been organized with eight married couples competing. The idea is for each husband and wife playing partners to compete against other players and scores are kept for the entire season and a prize given to the winning couple. The first games were played this week.

The Milo boys played their first hockey game of the season against the Blackfoot Indians and took them to town to the tune of 11 to 6. Considering that the boys have no rink this year and had to plan their game on paper and memories,

SIMPLE ECONOMY

L. D. NESBITT has written a guest editorial for the official publication of the Credit Union League of Alberta. In this editorial, Mr. Nesbitt says:

"There is no simpler economic theory in the world than the co-operative idea. It provides that common people shall get together and lump their purchasing power, their interests and their energy for their own welfare.

"There is a tendency to put too great a reliance on politics and the state, but there is a decided limit on what the government can do for the people. But people organized in a co-operative association can accomplish great things for themselves and for the masses which comprise the nation.

"The history of the world shows that freedom was gained only by strong, determined nations. It also shows that the great advancements in human achievements were made under freedom. What slave states ever made contributions to human welfare, human education and human advancement such as did ancient Greece and Great Britain—the birthplace of modern democracy.

"Governments cannot do for the people what the people should do for themselves. If the Canadian government did twice as much for Canadian people as it now does, this nation would never rise out of mediocrity amongst world nations, unless we have unlimited faith in the power of personal effort, and unless we translate that faith into works.

"The accomplishments of Canada during the war years amazed the world, but such accomplishments developed from the all-powerful thrust of the Canadian people, determined that this nation should do its full part to abolish tyranny and to maintain political freedom.

"The same results can be achieved in everyday life provided the people are enthused with the great idea of self-help. If we strive passionately after a higher economic standard based on co-operative ideas we can build a civilization in Canada superior to anything the world has known, shaping it to our heart's desires and warning it with our enthusiasm and our energy."

PASSING OF THE U. F. A.

THERE must have been sorrow in the hearts of many U.F.A. delegates at the annual convention when they voted that their organization would sacrifice its identity and merge with the Alberta Federation of Agriculture. Many Albertans in no way identified with the U.F.A., while recognizing that the merger is in best farm interests, feel deeply regretful at this loss of identity.

There is no doubt that the union under the A.F.A. brings together all farm groups under one banner, thereby increasing strength in objectives to be gained. It brings together wheat, beef and poultry producers, and every element of agriculture to act in co-ordination along educational and marketing lines. Most important of all, it links the Alberta farm population directly with the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, as well as with the federations of other provinces. From the standpoint of organized set-up it is a real step forward. Will the new organization capture and hold the active loyalty and awareness that the U.F.A. built up?

The agreement to merge U.F.A. and A.F.U. under the A.F.A. is the decisive move which has been building up for some years. And high time too, when post-war markets and conditions require that agriculture make its needs known and its influence felt to the maximum. Once the definite decision has been made it will be imperative that minor complications of union be satisfactorily adjusted. The vexatious question of U.F.A. co-operatives has been removed from the picture by the agreement that these be not included in the amalgamation but continue as U.F.A. co-operatives.

Although the U.F.A. ceases existence in its old capacity of leadership, it will have much of experience and vigor to bring to the merger. It has been a vital farm influence since the birth of the province and has always shown wisdom in choice of leadership. Many able men who have striven mightily for Alberta have been discovered and encouraged through the United Farmers, and have brought distinction to this province. Educationally the organization has been one of the greatest stimulants this province has ever known. Even though the wisdom of U.F.A. entrance into the political world has been questioned, much advanced and progressive legislation was made effective during the period of U.F.A. government.

Whatever the future may bring in a greater unification of all farm interests under the A.F.A. the accomplishments of the U.F.A. will not be forgotten. They have written forever into the history of Alberta a splendid record of aspiration and achievement.

COME UP AND SEE US SOME TIME

We have been sending out this invitation from Alberta for a long time now, and many of our friends south of the border have accepted our invitation—in spite of the uncomfortable, and sometimes hazardous condition of the roads we invite them to motor over. Thousands more would rather motor in comfort somewhere else than tackle our roads, no matter what scenery and hospitality we have to offer. And who can blame them?

We need good roads. We want good roads. Besides bringing millions of dollars in tourist trade to Alberta, they will encourage the free flow of business within the province for the benefit of all.

Do your part to promote good roads. Talk about them. Ask your provincial member for action on the $120,000,000 road-building program now under consideration by the government. Get behind the Alberta Motor Association in its campaign for a modern road system, by becoming a member.

A.M.A. membership costs only $15 a year, and it offers a host of services of value to every car owner. There are offices in Calgary, Edmonton, and Lethbridge that will send you full information promptly on request.

they have a right to feel pleased. Mr. John Winkler is in Edmonton having received a call that his brother-in-law Mr. Rhodes was seriously ill in the hospital there.

Keen interest was taken in the meeting called by the Bassano Municipal Hospital and held at Queenstown. The purpose was to present a picture of the future of the Bassano Hospital and to ascertain the feeling of the districts of Milo, Queenstown, Shoultice and Arrowwood to joining the Bassano Hospital district. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Edwards the secretary of the Hospital Board. He pointed out that Bassano hospital had $70,000.00 capital on hand and that if another $30,000 could be obtained a forty bed hospital could be built at a cost of approximately $250 per bed. He pointed out that the proposed Calgary Municipal Hospital would cost $500 or more per bed. It was also suggested that if this new hospital were built the present one could be used as an old folks home. He also stated that were the hospital built in all probability two more doctors would be employed at Bassano. There followed a question period and the vote taken showed the Queenstown district in favor of joining the Bassano district by a vote of twenty to four.

The January meeting of the United Church Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Phillips. This was the meeting at which the names of Sunshine Friends for the past year were revealed and those for the coming year, chosen. An excellent lunch was served and a good attendance reported.

The Norwegian-Lutheran Ladies Aid held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Morseth. Due to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was not as large as was anticipated.

Mr. and Mrs. Knutson and daughter Irene of Edmonton are visitors at the home of Mrs. Knutson's daughter, Mrs. Loyal Hermann.

Mr. and Mrs. David Chambers are spending two weeks with relatives at Great Falls, Montana, and will also visit in Spokane.

The Queenstown Branch of the Canadian Legion held their first meeting of the year last Tuesday and elected their officers. Officers elected were president, Ernest Heather; first vice-pres., Art Bremner; second vice-pres., Loraine McCallum; sec.-treas., Thomas Webber Jr. On the fourth of February, a meeting of the branch will be held at the Legion hall at which these new officers will be installed.

Our congratulations go this week to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gooch, upon the birth at the Vulcan hospital on January 10th, a son.

For a good laugh, attend the show at Queenstown on January 24 and see "The Adventures of a Rookie."

A meeting was held at Cluny of all of the teachers of the Bow Valley School District on Friday, Jan. 11. The inspector, Mr. Reeves, supplements his visits to the schools by these meetings, once each month so that the work all over the Division may be co-ordinated.

ELSEVE REDLON

Elseve Redlon of Milo died at his home at Milo on December 30. He had been in failing health from a heart condition for some time. Born in Newton, Kansas, 58 years ago he came to Canada to the Red Deer district in 1904 and in 1916 located in the Milo district. Surviving are two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Dan Fitzharris of High River, Doris and Chris of Calgary and Albert of the Calgary Highlanders overseas.

Funeral services were held from the Snodgrass Funeral Home, High River, on Friday at 2 p.m., with Rev. J. W. Bainbridge officiating. Interment was in the Highwood cemetery and the pallbearers were all neighbors, L. Healey, R. Adams, G. Johnk, W. Herman, J. McRoberts and R. McIntyre.

Service Pay To Equal Industry

Air Minister Colin Gibson has announced that rates of pay for permanent armed forces will be raised to equal the remuneration which would be given in private industry for similar services. He also said that rates in the various services will be uniform.

In view of future requirements for continental defence and regional commitments it is probable that the R.C.A.F. will be integrated to some extent with U.S. army airforce rather than R.A.F.

There are still 2000 miners needed in Alberta mines.

Alberta duck population is down again to frost during the hatching season of 1945.

REID HILL W.I.

Despite the cold weather the Reid Hill W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Ross Walker on January 10th with ten members and five visitors present. The meeting opened in the usual way with repeating the Creed and the Flag Salute. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved; reports were heard from the sick committee, and also the dance committee, who reported a very profitable and enjoyable dance.

Conveners were appointed for the year: Citizenship, Mrs. Agnes McKay; Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mrs. Roy Adams; Home Economics and Handicrafts, Mrs. D. Smith; Health and Social Welfare, Mrs. Del Thomas.

The meeting decided to pay $25 to the Vulcan Rest Room. The Institute is to entertain their families at a dinner and social evening at the Reid Hill Hall on March 15th, if the hall is available.

A very interesting letter was read from one of the navy boys receiving a ditty bag from the Institute.

Our thanks are extended Mrs. Alec McIntyre for her kind Christmas greetings to the Institute. A very fine contest was given by Mrs. Adams and was won by Mrs. McRoberts. Mrs. Adams also read an article on "How To Keep Young", which was enjoyed very much.

Mrs. Charles Northcott won the raffle.

The meeting adjourned on the motion of Mrs. Del Thomas, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Pete Bowie when the Roll Call will be a Valentine verse.

GOOD DEEDS W.I.

Thursday afternoon, January 10th, opened a new year of activity for Good Deeds W.I. at the home of Mrs. Bud Andrews.

A program of work and entertainment for 1946 was presented to the meeting by the new executive, Mrs. M. Lyman is now president, assisted by vice-presidents Mrs. R. Irwin and Mrs. M. Smith. The new secretary and treasurer are Mrs. Bud Andrews and Mrs. Geo. Pearce, respectively.

Mrs. E. Lilly had entertained the executive at a meeting on January 3rd to draw up the year's outline. Music is the keynote of the educational side of the program, in place of last year's stress on literature. A pleasing variety of roll calls has been planned and the usual papers and demonstrations are to be given throughout the year by the following conveners of standing committees: Social Welfare, Mrs. H. McMaster; Citizenship, Mrs. Wm. Wylie; Agriculture and Canadian Industries, V. Dennison; Home Economics and Handicrafts, Mrs. Cecil Dennison.

In connection with the musical program last Thursday, Mrs. Lilly read an article on the work of the musician Romberg. His compositions are characterized by their diversity of appeal to lovers of classical music as well as those favoring the modern trend.

The responses to the Roll Call, "Objectives For the Year", were varied, but these objectives were, with few exceptions, centred in the home.

The next meeting will be held on February 14th at the home of Mrs. George Pearce.

Fallacies vs. a Loan

(Christian Science Monitor)

While Britain accepts the American loan of $4,400,000,000 with misgivings, some Americans are trying to spread dissatisfaction with the loan in the United States. The objective of their efforts obviously is to prevent its approval by Congress. One line of argument against the loan deserves special attention, because it is based on ignorance and appeals to ignorance of the realities of international trade and finance—an ignorance so widespread as to be dangerous.

The argument runs: "If we lend this money to Britain now, Britain will have to pay it back and pay interest on it. Since Britain hasn't the money to do this, she will have to pay in goods. The import of these goods into the United States will cut into demand for American goods and cut into American employment."

The first fallacy here is the assumption that the United States is lending money but will have to take back goods in repayment. The United States, in fact, is establishing a line of credit—in dollars—on which the British can draw when they need dollars to buy American goods. In other words, the loan is basically a loan of goods. What is true of repayment of this loan is true of all such international transactions—their final settlement has to be in goods.

If British repayment will mean the import of British goods into the United States at some future time, the making of the loan means an export of American employment at some remote future time—and it may not mean this—it means an actual extra call on American employment now and in the near future.

So far as the workers are concerned, it means "jobs for sure" now, as against the mere possibility of loss of jobs in some uncertain tomorrow, and a loss which depends on many factors other than British trade. This should not look like too bad an exchange.
